OFFICE DEPOT WILL INVITE STARBOARD NOMINEES RECOMMENDED BY TWO PROXY ADVISORY FIRMS TO THE COMPANY'S BOARD IF CEO SELECTION COMMITTEE NOMINEES ARE RE-ELECTED

Urges Shareholders to Vote the WHITE Proxy Card to Allow Continuity of the CEO Selection Committee

Boca Raton, Fla., August 13, 2013 — Office Depot, Inc. (NYSE: ODP), a leading global provider of office supplies and services, today provided an update concerning the Company's annual meeting of shareholders which is scheduled for August 21, 2013.

Office Depot announced that if CEO Selection Committee members Tom Colligan and Marsha Evans are re-elected, the Company would immediately invite to its Board of Directors any of the three Starboard nominees recommended by proxy advisory firms Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) and Glass Lewis who are not elected. The Company believes this will best assure an uninterrupted CEO search process.

Additionally, the Office Depot Board will increase its size, as required, immediately following the annual shareholders meeting to accommodate the additional director nominees recommended by the two advisory firms.

"We have listened carefully to Office Depot shareholders and understand that they are supportive of adding new perspectives to the Board," said Neil Austrian, Chairman and CEO of Office Depot. "At the same time, shareholders are also telling us that they do not want this election to impede the progress made by the CEO Selection Committee, which includes director nominees Marsha Evans and Tom Colligan. We believe that maintaining the integrity of the Selection Committee and the progress they have made are of paramount importance."

Office Depot urges all shareholders to vote the WHITE proxy card in connection with the Company's annual shareholders meeting.
